

INDUSTRY NOTICE

POSITIONS VACANT: NON-EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS

19 May 2023

Vinehealth Australia, SA government independent statutory authority

Paid, Adelaide meetings, several positions available, 4-6 Board meetings per year

Do you want to help shape the future of the South Australian grape and wine industries?

Vinehealth Australia is looking for several new board members with a range of skills and experience, and a passion for biosecurity and the wine industry.

Vinehealth Australia's role is to safeguard South Australian vineyards from pests and diseases, particularly phylloxera, to ensure South Australia's grape and wine industries are profitable and productive into the future.

The Board Nominations Committee is seeking to recommend to the Minister suitable non-executive Directors for appointment to the Board. Successful candidates will demonstrate skills and expertise in several of the following:

- Grape and/or wine business ownership or management
- Strategy
- Innovation and digital governance
- Communication and stakeholder engagement
- Government relations
- Biosecurity management
- Finance
- Enterprise and sector risk management

Valuable personal attributes include:

- Passion for the vision, values, and purpose of Vinehealth Australia
- Ability to think strategically
- Ability to analyse financial and operational reports
- Understanding of contemporary governance
- Appreciation of regional issues
- Collaboration and communication skills
- Commercial acumen
- Strong business relationships
- Ability to influence others

This is a wonderful opportunity to make a significant contribution to the ongoing success of the grape and wine industries in South Australia.

If you are interested in being considered, send your application including a short cover letter and CV to board@vinehealth.com.au. Applications close 5pm Friday 2 June 2023.
